HRI Dogs: Surrendered Pairs

HRI does get dogs in pairs sometimes. In the past year, we have taken in four pairs. Each pair should be evaluated individually to determine whether they are truly bonded or would do just fine (or better) if separated.

Izzy & Sophie age 12 (female littermates) will be adopted together soon. They have been together all their lives and do well together although each is quite independent. We had someone who wanted to adopt them together so they are staying together.

JoJo age 8 & Liberty age 7 ½ (both male) were separately adopted, although together all their lives. One was dominant so the other lived in his shadow. The owner agreed it was better for them to go to different homes.

Portia age 8 ½ & Sparkle age 6 (both female) were shy and not very well socialized. Split up they get more attention and will become better socialized without depending on each other, and bloom. They came with a third dog, a male named Rabbit who also went to a different home.

Lakshman and Ram are two-year-old brothers, they look alike but are very different. Lakshman was sweet and very easy going but Ram, although affectionate at home, had times when he became reactive and aggressive, generally triggered by the presence of a strange dog on a walk. When we discovered this he was turned over to another rescue who could handle aggressive behaviors. We had a very nice family who adopted Lakshman so separately the young dogs each have appropriate Happy Landings.

Thanksgiving Keep your dog out of danger!

From Vet Street: Tis the season for family gatherings and food galore. Veterinarians know this is also the season for canine pancreatitis (inflammation of the pancreas), a painful, potentially life-threatening condition most commonly caused by overindulgence in foods that are particularly rich or fatty. And what kitchen isn't overflowing with such foods this time of year? Some vets call the day after Thanksgiving National Pancreatitis Day as so many animals come in with it.

Turkey skin, dressing loaded with butter, and perhaps guests responding to those big brown eyes and giving treats, all are apt to add up to an overload, which may trigger pancreatitis.

Additionally, keep an eye on your garbage as dogs often get into it, as well as helping themselves to anything they can reach while you are enjoying your coffee in the living room.

What are the signs? The most common clinical signs include nausea, vomiting, fever, lethargy, abdominal pain, diarrhea, and decreased appetite. During an attack, dogs may take a 'praying position', with their rear end up in the air while their front legs and head are lowered onto the floor. Go to the Vet!

So What Shoul I Be Looking Out For?

Thanksgiving Dinner

GOOD & BAD TREATS FROM THE TABLE

Dog Safe Ingredients

Turkey Skinless, white turkey meat is a high-protein treat, but not the bones!	Green Beans Raw green beans are full of iron!	Butternut Squash Cooked, plain butternut squash (before the cream and spices!)	Pumpkin Puree Sugar-free canned pumpkin is great for your pup's gut!	Apple Slices Apple slices without seeds are a great treat!

Ingredients to Avoid

Mashed Potatoes The added butter and cream can cause diarrhea for dogs.	Stuffing Onions, garlic, salt and other spices can be harmful to dogs.	Bread Dough The yeast in unbaked dough causes problems when ingested.	Corn on the Cob The cob can cause life-threatening obstructions.	Pecans Pecans cause gastric upset.
